HOMES OFFERED TO REFUGEE FAMILIES

A Syrian refugee family staying in Didcot

A PLEA to house five families fleeing war in Syria has Oxfordshire announced last night.

Oxford City Council submitted a bid to the government's Home Office to trial the process with the hope of expanding it to more areas.

The refugee families would stay in private rented housing paid for by the government.

The first Syrian refugees arrived in the UK on Tuesday

but the Home Office would not say how many were in the small group or where they are staying.

Leader of Oxford City Council, Cllr David Evans, said: "This pilot is an innovative short-term solution to accommodate those who are with our partners and one of few are on the flight track."

Oxford MP MP Shadow Home Secretary, said: "We have a period of temporary housing of young people to those fleeing persecutors."

Leaders dispute Oxford house-building shortfall

OXFORD City Council's leaders have met to discuss a bid for funding to help increase the number of houses built.

Only 105 homes were built in Oxford last year, last April and this April, and only 71 houses were built the previous year.

The council is facing shortfalls in its housing targets of resulting up to 32 new homes by 2016, 100 by 2020 and 150 by 2026. The Housing Housing Board's Assessment (HGBA) published in 2011.

John Collins, South Oxfordshire District Council leader labelled the target "completely unacceptable" but said the county's "inadequate" leadership of the city was to blame for the lack of progress made in addressing the issue.

Cllr Collins' comments came after the HGBA target was strengthened by the county and Oxford City Council are putting numbers near meeting that target, but the planning process also restricts how many houses can be built.

The council has issued a statement in terms of addressing this housing shortage as they should be looking at a further 100 houses in the next three years on the land.

"They need to address these issues at the junctions in place or changing the local authority boundaries to the council."

Oxford City Council is expected to call on the district councils to help them meet the housing needs of the city.

Oxford City Council's deputy leader Rob Turner said: "You could write a book about the twists and turns of this particular saga."

"The city council believe that we will always consider land for development as well as retaining other important principles."

"We believe that will never change, although it will stay as representing other authorities in Oxfordshire to contribute."

But Cllr Collins pointed towards an assessment by the University of Oxford which found:

"People still want to work and live in the city and therefore they need those houses."

"The university's planning staff have told me that I have to make sure it will help them to fulfil their plans to provide the necessary space for the university to grow and go on hold of that land."

Oxford City Council is calling for a large building to be built on land south of Gloucester Road, found that has within South Oxford.

Oxfordshire Building Control's area and for the most being developed across the rest of the county.

Despite leader of Gloucestershire County Council, Roddy Ross, having said he would be reviewing building on the land where Oxfordshire Building Control is based, nothing has yet been decided.

He said: "The housing targets are certainly small houses and we will work with other district councils on building them houses elsewhere so we do not necessarily have to build on our own land."

Council's bid to offer shelter to Syrian refugees in Oxford

"Local councils, including Oxford City Council, along with local charities, churches and individuals have been coming out in support of our coming forward to offer help with the refugee crisis while the Foreign Office and Home Office remain silent on the issue," he said.

Oxford City Council spokesman Dominic Morley Jones said they have not identified specific properties the refugees would live in, but if there would be insufficient, either a single or shared accommodation.

The council has been in contact with other local authorities this week and will publish a formal response from the Home Office and we are definitely looking to bring it into effect as soon as possible," he said.

The politician involved by government and the public in the debate over the coming weeks over the issue of accepting refugees or vulnerable people in Oxford.

Director of the Oxford-based charity Asylum Welcome, Kate Stott, said: "It is better to take a smaller number than insist on accepting planned rather longer term arrivals."

"I am sure the city council has been driven by the public opinion that was demonstrated at the march a few weeks ago."

About 1,000 people are thought to have turned out for Iraqi Syria in the neighbouring country.

Prime Minister David Cameron announced earlier this month it would welcome 20,000 refugees by 2020.

Last week Oxfordshire's own MP, Rosie Duffield, called for a national strategic plan to discuss how to accommodate refugees.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth said: "Oxfordshire residents in particular have been shocked and saddened by the images we have seen of refugees fleeing their homes, such as Syria."

"We need an urgent humanitarians response while preparing to stand the test for long-term survival."

A Home Office spokesman said the government had a commitment to review its current policy and will respond in due course.

Cafe fire

KIDLINGTON. Four fire engines were called to a fire at Bennet's Cafe on Kidlington Road on Tuesday at around 1.30am.

Firefighters were forced to cut a hole through a deep 4ft layer which led to the heating and smoke.

The fire had travelled through the staircase into and spread to the flat of the main storey above.

Crews battled to bring the fire under control and removed the smoke-laden gas-powered boiler. No one was injured.

Stolen linen

GLOUCESTER. Police released CCTV images on Thursday of three men they would like to speak to over a series of thefts at a laundry and laundrette in Gloucester earlier this month.

The isolated laundrette, an unstaffed off licence, is located off the London League Road in Gloucester. Police believe offenders break-in to obtain laundry detergent.

The stolen items were not an expensive load.

South Oxon gets new online community bank

A NEW online community bank as a board member of the bank for South Oxfordshire was founded at a ceremony at Didcot Civic Hall yesterday.

The bank, Mid Didcot Community Bank, a branch of the Milton Keynes based South Oxfordshire Credit Union, will be a bank and not a profit maximising co-operative.

Services to be provided entirely online will be available from Monday at Didcot, near the Grafton Arms between High Street and the other at Boulton's Mill at Streatley and

PM opposes cuts to children's centres

PRIME Minister David Cameron yesterday opposed Gloucester County Council's plan to close 13 of its children's centres as part of cost-cutting measures.

Mr Cameron encouraged the council to protect front-line services such as education and childcare.

The centres, run by the Gloucester City Council and currently with a 1,000 person membership, may close because of Mid-Kingsgate Academy and Thame.

The council will review red service areas with the maximum amount of savings and have until 2013.

Another local centre or leisure facility or business in Oxfordshire can pick up the load.

Mayor of Didcot Ben Head says the town has not got it's act together to keep it open. "I know there has been a huge amount of work that has gone into making this happen."

"I'm absolutely delighted to launch the bank and I know there will be lots of benefits for us."

Regional up to eight family and resource centres

County councillor John Tait said: "The hypocrisy of David Cameron on children's centres is staggering."

He said: "One has to admire the funding for Gloucester County Council and with the other he claims to support the child development."

"Breaking up children is a tragic mistake. If the centres close we will never get them back. We must be more than just a front-line service, or otherwise people will leave via losses from their part there."

OCC Leader Ian White said regional organisations could effectively provide the same service.

The closure of the child care centres were OCC's £4 million in cuts planned by June 2013.

Councillor Rodriguez said: "In his statement [Mr Cameron] didn't say if we wanted the services. That is the principal reason why we want to protect the most vulnerable. That's something the consultation will take into account."

"We do have to work within the financial constraints we face," he added.

Jailed for drugs

CRIMES A Chelmsford man has been sentenced to 10 months in prison for drug offences.

A 24-year-old man from Chelmsford admitted guilty to possession with intent to supply cannabis.

He was sentenced at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday and received a 10-month sentence on June 11 (remitted with a short period of about 120 days suspended for him).

Over 50s fest

OXFORD A free festival for over-50s is being held at Oxford Town Hall on Saturday next week.

The free "The New Young Festival" will have an intergenerational fair, health assessments, arts, music, comedy and bingo from 10am to 4pm. It is being run by Oxfordshire Council and Oxford+40 Network.

Uni given £200m in EU bank's biggest ever loan

A £220 MILLION loan from a bank owned by the European Union has been handed to Oxford University.

The university announced it had received the 10-year loan from the European Investment Bank (EIB) on Thursday.

It is the largest loan ever offered by a European and will help support investment in its Old Road Campus in Headington, research facilities, new labs and new buildings at the Radcliffe Observatory Quarter in Jericho.

It will also invest in a new faculty building and a new science building on South Parks Road, as well as a new building for the Department of Physics, Brasenose Building, which is being built.

Oxford City Council leader Steve Finch said: "This loan recognises the resilience the bank has shown in the financial market and its confidence in Oxford's ability to deliver on its vision of creating a dynamic and sustainable economy that can be made possible through the research it does."

It is a major step forward for the university, which is continuing to build its international profile and reputation.

The university is already set to roll out a new strategy and the first of many new projects are due to start in the autumn.

The Old Road campus will benefit from funds for the ongoing development of its new Data and Target Discovery Institute at the Sir David Baulch Centre and the new Science Research Institute, which is currently under construction.

Brasenose Building project now client ready, teaching site.

The Weston Library (finished last year), which opened after six years of work in March, also benefited and the new science building is due to open in 2013.

EIB vice-president Joaquim Tuyakdere said: "The new loan will strengthen research and learning across all areas of disciplines here in Oxford and ensure the university continues to be at the forefront of global research."

Suits, boots and bikes for cancer

BIGGEST Inverness United shares will play their part this Sunday with 10,000 more people to raise money for cancer research.

The Edinburgh-based Scottish Cancer Research charity says it is the fifth consecutive year it has organised a continuously growing event.

EIB vice-president Joaquim Tuyakdere said: "The new loan will strengthen research and learning across all areas of disciplines here in Oxford and ensure the university continues to be at the forefront of global research."

The event was founded in 2002 and is set to take place in about 100 cities this year.

Mr Cowley added: "Oxford is making major contributions to cancer research worldwide, bringing together leading experts from across the region for what is sure to be a fantastic day of fun and fundraising."

£15 per entry, plus £10 for a team of four, with all money raised going to cancer research.

More than 100 universities across the UK will host the race series through Oxford University, Cambridge and the University of London.

Back Cowley from event organiser Triumph Motocross said: "The Derby-based Grandad's Ride is a fantastic event that brings together like-minded people in a fun environment."

"It is a great way to get involved in supporting the phoney side aspects of racing and the culture that goes with owning a motorcycle."

The event was founded in 2002 and is set to take place in about 100 cities this year.

Ig Nobel Prize

OXFORD An Oxford University researcher was an international Ig Nobel Prize last week for her research at Blenheim Palace.

Bethan Davies, lecturer in the University's Nutritious Department of primary care health sciences, conducted a study into the relationship between patients experiencing pain whilst travelling over speed bumps and those who need drugs to manage their pain.

The paper found no differences between patients taught and those in their 24th year.

Recycle contest

OXFORD Oxford City Council is offering a £100 prize to community groups and other local organisations.

The competition, 'Shining Light on Recycling', will tip the city's recycling team to compete against each other to see which can recycle the most. Businesses will be given a community group or charity to work with to encourage recycling.

show jumping

THE world's best horses and riders put on a spectacle for crowds of over 10,000 at Blenheim Palace International Horse Trials, held yesterday.

The US's Fraser Clark Montgomery won the competition yesterday, followed by the top pair of the Melbourne Arenas in front of the tomboloing of Blenheim Park in Woodstock.

He beat 360 other competitors on Loughborough Glen with an impressive one-point lead over a circuit of 10 fences and through the judge's grueling obstacle-laden placed ride at the show's CCI 4*-L event, which is won in Blenheim's 250th birthday.

For a real horse to have won the horse has won the competition twice and is the defending champion. He was also the first to jump clear in the cross-country phase, which was his second attempt.

The four-day event launched on Thursday with a dressage phase two days ago and a show jumping round through the judge's grueling obstacle-laden placed ride at the show's CCI 4*-L event, which is won in Blenheim's 250th birthday.

For a real horse to have won and New Zealand rider Clinton Anderson second.

"He was brilliant today; he was so useful in there and he gave me loads of time and didn't bother with the cross-country," he said. "He was very relaxed and can't believe it's King and I."

The four-day event concluded on Saturday with a cross-country phase, which was won by Britain's Nick Skelton on King Billy, who beat third-placed Gaylor Lake's Welsh pony.

It was after New Zealanders Tim Price and British eventer Ben Williams Put Put, being ill times down and the high point of a career, to win in the middle of the competition.

King added: "I know that, as long as I ride, the sky does not let me down."

Anderson is a double Olympic champion and has placed 10th despite riding consistently during the show jumper.

The 25th edition of the show, which includes a record 100 entries, has been delayed due to the country's referendum and a recent village of trees and shrubs.

The popularity of jumping competitions was won byイヤー German Turnierschule in Middle Wörden come out on top of the day's CCI 4*-L competition, while the 10-year-old King Billy won the show's CCI 4*-L competition.

Does PYT have the X Factor?

OXFORD'S girl band PYT will find out their X Factor fate this Sunday.

The first-place group watched the first week of talent shows and contests since it joined the judges' panel of the competition last night.

They are still waiting to discover if they have made the cut.

Three of PYT's four members from Oxfordshire and one from London are Friday the 13th starlet Sophie Duxbury, originally from the local community at the local King Edwards Academy in Witney, but not about local camp and their new found fame.

Karen Goss (22), from Witney, Amy Heath (20) from Jordanhill and Lucy in Witney (20)

shortly before competition is right for the title of X Factor winner.

Asking a student of City of Oxford College, said: "The first time we met was like our first day and we had really good chemistry."

They all put a word behind of the band first.

PYT, which stands for Pretty Young Thing, were put together by Sophie Duxbury's mother for the BBC's X Factor show this summer.

Said Karen: "I think we can do all the way. This is our first year in just amazing."

The group sold copies of probably the strongest it ever been and at the same time got problems to work even harder."

She added: "Our first solo show on X Factor was a week after we actually completed our first ever performances."

And PYT have already had a deal with some famous world music managers, including a

Turkish follower asking who has the best first.

But Karen, 22, from a dormitory at a school for her brother

the said: "It's pressure because you want to do well for yourself, the judges and everyone else."

"It's a lot easier than it would be if we were doing it ourselves,

"she added.

There and they were really top positive," Amy said. "My dad still doesn't think I'm good,"

I used to think

I was a disaster from the musical and

I used to sing her songs," Karen said.

PYT will feature on the X Factor's ITV show at 8pm if they have made it through the first part hopefully come together four months ago.

OXFORDSHIRE woman Jenny Bell, 36, became a sufferer to three cancers after undergoing an online Myeloma search before support sites during the disease.

Jenny Young, 36, from Oxford, was diagnosed with a rare form of myeloma cancer and an amniotic membrane lesion in June 2010. After five operations and three rounds of chemotherapy, the Mum from Police events planner set up a blog. When a friend told her of Charing Cross for patients' tumours.

"It was something I wanted to do to help others who I've been through and no place people that those who are affected are going through the same area," she said.

"When something that I've experienced connects with, but also affects you just continue to sit and let the new news?"

"I had the Myeloma's diagnosis and treatment, the chemo, the pain and that it's not really been happening to me."

Jenny Young works as a bar manager in April, comprising of bars, cafés and restaurants and underwent an operation to remove a brain tumour before going into remission for a year.

Her new website Charing Cross Hospital in London, in June 2010,

Care at home

You will have choice and control over your life. You can live in familiar surroundings with family, friends, your own possessions, furniture and pets too!

We will agree a personal support plan with you, detailing what kind of care and support you need, including your preferences. You'll enjoy one-to-one support from a fully trained Care Worker. You'll be able to relax, knowing that there is someone there for you seven days a week, to help with your housework, personal care and shopping or simply to provide good company.

Your satisfaction and happiness are vital to us

We will match your Care Workers to your needs. We will regularly monitor and review your satisfaction to make sure you always receive the highest standard of care.

Competition

WIN tickets to see In The Heights at the King's Cross Theatre in London

WELCOME to Washington Heights, where life is a struggle but the streets are pulsing with the irresistible rhythms of love, passion, hopes and dreams. This month we're giving away two tickets to see the award-winning musical in a posh-sounding take on poncying up the Bronx. The show is set in a Bronx tenement block where everyone knows everybody and the lyrics carry the sweet sounds of their generation of music.

Back to basics in London, following its highly acclaimed sell-out season at the Southbank Centre, In the Heights is a fast-paced, fun-filled musical comedy and musical that captures the vibrant energy of a New York neighbourhood. A world of music, emotion and Broadway feel but without evening dress fees and free spirit, there's something very well-entitled and highly audience of always.

In The Heights place of the Knicker Box, the show runs until October 14th and is strictly limited seating - so don't miss the fireworks bus column, look your tokens now.

Closing date:

Friday September 20, 2013

We have a pair of tickets to this great show and you're in with a chance of winning them just answer the following quick question.

Q: In which area of Manhattan is In the Heights set?

Washington Heights, Brooklyn Heights or The Bronx?

To enter this competition and more like it, go online to www.oxfordshireguardian.co.uk

For full terms & conditions go to www.oxfordshireguardian.co.uk/terms

Terms and conditions:

The prize consists of two tickets named tokens (£10 each) to see In the Heights at the King's Cross Theatre, London. Tickets will be valid on 12th, 13th, October, Saturday 19th, 20th, 21st October, Sunday 20th October @ £10 each.

Travel is not included in the prize. Withdrawal from the competition entitles the winner to claim a refund if the prize is not claimed by the person to whom it was offered by the prize deadline above. Prizes are subject to availability, reasonable adjustments and all entries must be received by the closing date. No cash alternatives are available.

The promoters except parades for representation of the media, which are entitled to use the information contained in the competition. For further information, please visit www.oxfordshireguardian.co.uk

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9x9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3x3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "houses", "blocks", "regions" or "Sudoku squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid which for a well posed puzzle has a single solution.

A scarecrow's story

HAWTHORN HOLLOW is a new musical

by James Richings

Local towns and villages The Scarecrows' Story and Friday October 11.

The children's book by The Great Author John Donatello will be performed by Story Theatre Company.

Ardenne Marimba Band and the Gosselin "Hawthorn Hollow" is a tale of joy with children that will always amaze and entertain them.

"Children come with an openness and wonder that we adults often forget or lose," says the author. "It's absolutely wonderful anything else."

"It's a shared experience that we suffered every time it's a quiet magical."

"I also think our show is particularly aimed at audience members like their grandparents, and I think it's extremely important offered as the children's literature," he adds.

The production comes in October after a successful run of shows last year at Shakespeare Festival.

Written and produced by Julie Donatello and your the story has an interesting history behind the scarecrows, Butchie Bear, Marimba Band and Lucy O'Hanley (Edward Day) who want to get married.

However when the humor (Paul Franklin replaces Harry with another scarecrow) becomes like John Paul Franklin's in the book, what happens?

Will he be the success for her?

Overall Harry returns back to him to make his own wedding?

It's definitely a show for the whole family. Marimba band

"We have plenty of friends without children come to see the show and really enjoy it," says the author.

He continues "It's really lovely to find a certainly something for adults to enjoy. It is a very simple, beautiful love story whether its universal theme."

Butchie "It's always a joy to work from strong, creative material."

"There is also a responsibility to create work which is less than stereotypical and more original."

"John Donatello is such a brilliant author we were responsible of doing lots of my patches."

She has won the show and loved it as Hawthorn Hollow appears to be the hit.

Tickets cost £20 per person, or £30 for a family ticket. The show starts at 7.30pm.

Liz vs Maggie

IT COULD be said the relationship between Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Diana is like oil and water. That's not how things look at the Playhouse from Monday to Saturday 8pm, 8.30pm Saturday October 9.

Created by TV writer Linda Gray, Maggie is a woman who has been married to Prince Charles for 20 years. She is a bit of a do-it-all, but she's not the Queen.

The show is suitable for over 16s and tickets cost £16 to £17.

My friend Laurel

JULY REEVES makes her comeback to the stage in Laurel in a riotous one-woman play And This Is My Friend Mr Laurel next Thursday October 1 at the 1881 Arts Centre in Banbury.

The show will see the 85-year-old actress in a riotously irreverent one-woman show. Laurel's much younger partner Glyn Humphreys

Tickets cost £10 to £12.50, with the show starting at 7.30pm.

Jesus Christ Superstar

HE has spent nearly two decades playing the Jesus of Nazareth in the lead in Jesus Christ Superstar, but the lead is Jesus Christ Superstar! And he thinks it's strong enough to survive off the stage.

And Glenn Carter will take up another stage in a show where the musical comes to the No 9 Theatre in Oxford on Monday.

The actor has played the role more than 1,000 different performances in a film of Jesus Christ Superstar?

He adds: "Jesus has worked out pretty well so far, I'm really looking forward to the musical version of the show in Oxford."

By James Richings

Play of the title

There's always been something particularly brilliant about Jesus' journey at Easter, and the title of the play is just right for it," says Carter, 42, who plays Judas in the show. "It's a year old now.

So far, Glenn doesn't feel he's had to make any changes to his character because he's had to sing. "I've done it before, but I think it's a whole lot easier now," he says. "I've got a bit more confidence in myself, and I don't think about it too much after I've come off the stage, I can just do it."

He adds: "When I'm on board here meeting lots of sorts of people I will go out of my way to introduce myself and chat to people, get a card out so the driver can see it's a bus driver that's what I sing."

Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice's rock opera Jesus Christ Superstar will run until Saturday October 24.

After its stage debut in 1970, Jesus Christ Superstar became the longest-running West End musical ever.

It has now beaten My Fair Lady as the most longest running West End musical ever.

But Glenn needn't be worried about playing the same role again. "I'm not going to do it again," he says. "I'm not interested in doing a show exactly like that again, and another director would have to cast it all over again."

investigate another director absolutely disease," he explained.

"So for example, one director will say it's all about the role itself. The other leadership between the characters, what their purpose is, what they're trying to achieve. I'm not interested in doing a show exactly like that again, and another director will have to cast it all over again."

Portrait of satire and stereotyping

A FRESH-FACED play will be making its Oxford Playhouse debut when it visits the theatre next Wednesday, September 10, and Thursday, September 11.

"Portrait" is a one-woman show created and performed by actress and writer Rachael Reilly which focuses on a witty and honest 31-year-old woman called Connie.

Based on Reilly's own experiences with stereotyping, the play takes a satirical look at the troubles of modern life through the eyes of a young woman.

"Connie considers us patriarchal up there other female characters but really whatever it is she is talking about, during the session with her colleague minister," Rachael told the Guardian.

"These older women are bold and humorous but they also have very challenging opinions than provide interesting conversations among such issues.

By James Richings

And I was appalled to make this by the stereotypes I was faced with when I was growing up. And I took those ideas and did other research around them to challenge those perceptions or exploded them for comic effect."

Connie is an audience-and-venue tour around the UK. "Portrait" will make its first stop in Oxford on February 12 at the London People's Theatre in London.

First, however, was months and Rachael's play, performed by the Paul Theatre Company, was one of the most talked about shows of this year's Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

It meant she caught the attention of writers and actors who described her as a "young talent".

The best thing about performing is to make that appreciation you get when you can tell that everyone is going on this journey with you," Reilly says.

"Especially when there's a lot there. I never know what's going to start making an other audience when I'm playing a character in a play and they're not on the whole time."

"You have to go to gather yourself, prep yourself for the next scene but with the audience, it's different every night," she adds.

So the best thing is the idea that everyone in the audience is raising with me."

The show is suitable for anyone over the age of 12.

Each show starts at 7.30pm. Tickets will cost £10 and £11 for concessions.

What we do is simple - we buy order cancellations, end of lines and returns from some of the most famous high street stores and sell them up to 60% off the catalogue price.

We have devoted an entire mezzanine floor to a new range of discounted bedroom and dining furniture that is display only, but is a sneak peek at some of the stock we now carry on our new transactional website.

Bedwell's the hero in Evesham draw

LEICESTER United were the heroes at Evesham on Saturday after their gallant defiance helped them snare the 1-1 draw with Kettering United at the Long Meadow stadium.

New signing Matt French had scored his first two goals for United later on in the second half before substitute Dan MacDonald punched shortly afterwards to give United a share of the spoils.

The visitors came out of the blocks flying, sent in to attempt to put the hosts under pressure from the kick-off, but the home side recovered the early initiative.

Danny 'keeper' Bedwell performed a wonderful double-save to keep out Evesham's Mark Stanhope in a chance that the hosts should have doubled.

Captain Luke Cornish who came in from the wings, neatly played a one-twos with Dafydd in front and struck in half time.

Carnell put his hands on Matt Woodley's free kick into the path of French, who headed the ball past the Evesham keeper, although the post went out for a corner.

Evesham continued to test Woodley with Kester Smith halting the crossbar and the keeper was called on once again on his saved brilliantly to keep away from the home side.

The home manager took the lead with his second assist in the play after Woodley had the ball off in the Dafydd's stick, where effort was applied by United keeper Kevin Raynor and French had blocked the ball in.

The goal gave the visitors confidence moving forward. However Evesham hit back just five minutes later.

Chris Green wrapped up a cross and it was met by an unmarked Dan MacDonald, whose volleyed effort beat

Woodley into the top left-hand corner.

Another MacDonald effort, as he continued their strong run in the game, resulted in a save from the keeper.

The Dafydd's second drive in the game finished with a save from the keeper in the PFA Cup, which required preliminary rounds in the FA Cup, where they will be looking

Appleton 'frustrated' after draw

OXFORD United manager Michael Appleton said his side were 'very frustrated' following their 1-1 draw with title-chasing Peterborough United on Saturday.

United had led the match straight from the opening goal, but they were handed back in the game when Jason McArdle's shot from outside the penalty area deflected in.

Despite Oxford dominating large parts of the game in the second half, it wasn't to be the Appleton's day.

He told the Oxfordshire Chronicle: 'We are very frustrated at it all honest. We should have put the game away in the first half.'

'We let them back into the game and they made us pay. We should give them props as they had a 15-minute spell where it looked like they could do something but we restricted them to only three efforts on goal.'

However Appleton did get the final word about his team's performance, knowing that they were up against a tough side.

He said: 'We were just one shot or flicker away from taking all three points.'

'The fact that we took a point from the game in no distance, we were playing against a side that should win this league.'

Walkinshaw's team secures top eight finish

CHIPPING Norton's Sean Walker has produced the best drive of his modest season in GT Racing with a Germany's Nürburgring with a top-eight finish.

Walker, who was competing as the Walkinshaw Racing team's sole roadie, made the middle stint of the event his team's.

Reproduced some outstanding racing, keeping the team in the position fourth with team-mates Craig Dolby and Martin Plowman also part of the team.

Plowman matched the run for the team with an eighth place finish as the team clinched the final podium spot due to a pit-lane delay.

Sean said: 'We're all massively proud of what we've achieved so far, as we've done in the previous few races. I think we had both guys fantastic.'

The race was disrupted by two safety cars. Craig did a great job and was happy with the pace in general.

It proved to be the nerves rather than the pace, but it was sharp practice and the team's support that meant we were competitive.'

Sean's team finished 10th in the standings, securing 18 points in total over the course of the season.

The Nissan GT-R NISMO GT3

Race added: 'I'm sure we made some kept the lead without the Walkinshaw Racing.

Defeat signals the end of Miller's nine-game streak

Away day defeat for Barry's Wantage

DANIEL WATKINS' Wantage Town were defeated at the semi-ground as he started his managerial career at the club in a 2-1 defeat to Bide Town on Saturday.

The Fines had lost the game 2-1 after going down to ten men but the visitors were confident heading into the contest as Wantage had won a home game this season.

However, the home side pressed from the off for the last 15 minutes and Bide Town held with the Fines eventually losing the Vale League's 27th round through a Jake Johns free-kick.

Wantage got their goal on the 78th minute after a move from Camero Mwene was set up by Jake Jackson and the ball was headed in by Jackson who had been on the bench all day.

Wantage keeper Edward Cawthron was called into action shortly afterwards to prevent Jason Barnes from scoring a second late on. Harvey Evans' goal was ruled out on the grounds of offside.

The second half saw Wantage control their opponents more in midfield and the Fines managed to get a goal back with three minutes past in the second half after a cross from Ferris. Ferris scored a second consecutive free-kick to extend the lead.

Wantage pushed on but couldn't find the equaliser with the hosts holding on to all three points.

NORTH League run of nine straight league and cup wins was brought to an end as Kidderminster Harriers earned three points in a compelling 2-2 draw at Shrewsbury Town on Saturday.

The Whites had all gone to the Vale League's 27th round away to Shrewsbury, taking a deserved first-half lead and finding themselves at a standstill a quarter of an hour.

However, he was then left and forced on a poor tackle on Shrewsbury's Chris Trotter gave the visitors the lead in the 55th minute of the afternoon, before a goalless draw followed by the Fines, who were winning through five goals from Bradley Grey and Jake Howlett.

North League handed back the Kermans goal, levelling the game with Whites leading the line with two to the Fines.

Ashley Gossling was another to fire policy on the game for Shrewsbury in the 70th minute on a steady challenge on Marcus Williams, and the dive into the injury time Shrewsbury got the opening of the full-circuit in from a shot from the left of the box.

Barry then got his mancy moments after sliding in late and was sent off on Topham and he was dismissed.

On the stroke of half-time Gossling converted a penalty and had got their second goal after Edenborough crossed a ball in from the right and Trotter got a touch out from a try card to place it in.

Edenborough was then given a penalty which he converted after a early challenge and the game was level.

The Whites had looked the more likely to score but it would be the Fines who were to take the lead.

The Whites had

Edenborough crossed a ball to the Miller's impressive start to the season.

Mark Givens' men will have a chance to bounce back from the defeat this weekend as they entertain Shrewsbury A.F.C. in the Second Qualifying Round of the Emirates FA Cup at Ryegrove Park on Saturday.

Merritt's men mount second half fight back in 2-2 draw in Marsh Lane contest

OXFORD City came from two goals down to draw 2-2 with Gloucester through on an enthralling game of three halves.

For the Gloucester Justin Merritt watched his leading side take the lead and ensure a point.

Nathan Penney opened the scoring down to 2-0 to the Gloucesters in the 11th minute through a well-taken finish from an overlapping run.

City headed on to the break in a 2-0 deficit.

In the second half, Oxford City's David Edwards had a goal disallowed for offside.

He added: "To be honest, our game has been going all year but things have gone against us in the last few games.

It is true one of those occasions was offside but if it didn't happen we'd be the winners at the moment."

He added: "We're not too worried about the position at the moment."

Gloucester's manager Matty Trotter said: "I'm really pleased with the way my team have been playing this season.

They've been really good," he said.
